

THE CORONA DIARY

MARCH 2020

The second week of March was the last one at the school buildings. When we heard about the social isolation due to corona virus epidemy, we started to think about alternative activities and lessons we could do with the students.

On the last day of school, we watched videos in English about two Polish people living in Wuhan. They explained how the life there looked like under the lock down, how they managed to protect themselves and do their groceries. It was interesting to learn about their experience and find out that they managed to stay safe in this difficult situation.

The next week the social isolation came into life in Poland. We stayed at our apartment in Wroclaw. We contacted students via emails and Skype to continue to talk to them in English and organize video meetings. We had conversations in English and we practiced speaking tasks and exercises preparing Matura students for their oral exam.

We also made a project - a power point presentation about St Patrick's Day in cooperation with students. Everybody searched for the information and pictures about this Irish celebration held in March. Finally we created a 4-stages project : the first one was about the history of St Patrick's Day, the second one about the St Patrick's Day around the world, the third one about the criticism toward this celebration and the last one about the gastronomy.
