

Christmas trip

Santa Claus day is celebrated on December 6th in Poland. On this occasion I accompanied grades 4, 5 and 6 of the Polish-German primary school on a trip to the “Odra Centrum” and then to the Rynek market square.

The Odra centrum is a café located on a floating barge on the river right next to the Grunwald bridge. They organise workshops for things like carpentry or ceramics. Our activity with the students was decorating Christmas cookies.

After that was done, we went to the Christmas market and split up into four smaller groups. The children were able to walk around the square and treated themselves to some sweets or bought some gifts for their families.

We then had some lunch and went back to school by tram.
