

My Christmas at home

I decided to go home to visit my family in Freiburg over the Christmas holidays.

The weather was very nice so we went on a lot of walks and spent time together.

For Christmas dinner we had Raclette, a Swiss meal where you melt your cheese on little plates in a machine and add whatever you want on it. For dessert we made a “bûche de Noël”, a typical French Christmas cake.

Walks in the forest/vines

Bûche de Noël/Raclette

We opened the presents as usual on the 25th of December. We found nice surprises in our stockings.

Here are also some pictures I took of my city, it was very decorated for the Christmas time.

Stockings

